Herter's Plan On Caribbean Given to OAS

Program Provides For Committee To Watch Over Area

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Western Hemisphere foreign ministers strove today to get their conference back in the path of compromise and polite talk after a hot exchange of insults between delegates of Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

The Latin-American ministers turned their attention to a program U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter suggested for dealing with tension in the Caribbean.

Groups of ministers began discussing a temporary fire-prevention committee proposed by Herter. At present, the Organization of American States intervenes only at the request of a member involved in a dispute. Herter's plan would establish a regular watch-dog committee. Herter believes the committee, though lacking police powers, would have a calming effect.

Both Cuba and Venezuela have shown some opposition to this idea. There were prospects of a compromise plan, however.

The U.S. secretary also urged an investigation of "viciously hostile propaganda" in the area which he said was playing into the hands of the Communists.

The Caribbean tension exploded within the conference Thursday night when Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa accused the Dominican Republic of violating the principle of nonintervention by waging a radio campaign against Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime and by training anti-Castro expeditionaries to invade Cuba. Roa declared the counterrevolutionary plot which his government says it recently uncovered in Cuba was organized and financed in Ciudad Trujillo, the Dominican capital.

Dominican Foreign minister Portilio Herrera Baes jumped up and demanded an opportunity to reply, shouting: "Somebody here wants to muddy American waters like squids. But in this case it is not black ink but red ink that is used according to the newest, dirtiest ideology."

Several foreign ministers intervened privately to calm down the antagonists after the session adjourned.

Nixon Says Strong America Is Needed To Reach 'Summit'

SPRING LAKE, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon says that a strong America is necessary before agreement can be reached at a summit conference.

For this reason, he warned Thursday, the United States should not relax its defenses because of the forthcoming exchange visits between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"If we are to have a possibility of agreement at a 'summit' conference, the President must be able to talk from a position of strength," Nixon declared.

The vice president came to this resort community to attend a U.S. Savings bond rally.

Nixon stressed the challenge that Khrushchev's policy of peaceful competition presents. He added he thought it important that Khrushchev see "the typical America" when he visits this country next month.

Newsmen questioned Nixon about his potential candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

"I have consistently maintained that it is too early to make a decision with regard to 1960," Nixon replied.

VANDALISM AT CITY PARK — C. F. "Rusty" Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and playgrounds for Salem, inspects the damage done to a tree at Memorial Park by some young Paul Bunyan. Rusty is quick to point out that the city's newest park isn't the only one being hit by vandalism. He has this trouble at all the parks. A drinking fountain at Memorial Park also was broken recently, apparently by children using the park. Offenders will be prosecuted, he warned.

Bill Wins 229-201 on Roll Call

Ike-Backed Labor Measure Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-riding coalition of House Republicans and Southern Democrats was ready today to wrap up and send to the Senate a labor controls bill backed by President Eisenhower for final adjournment.

The governor called Democratic members of the Senate Judiciary Committee to his office for a conference before the one-day session began.

He said the House-passed measure was needed to capture elusive top echelon racketeers responsible for gambling and other vice conditions such as disclosed by a grand jury investigation in Stark County.

The governor also plugged for a law requested by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to make possession of numbers gambling slips a felony. Numbers bets on New York stock and bond sales form the backbone of gambling in various communities, McElroy asserted. He proposed a maximum fine of $1,000 and three years in prison for violators.

"Your conspiracy bill," McElroy said in his request to DiSalle, "is designed to improve law enforcement in the state by providing a proper weapon for prosecutors; my bill is designed for the same purpose. The two, naturally, should be harmonized," he said. "I am sure we can work out a good bill."

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — The first man to be tried under Massillon's ordinance banning possession of gambling devices has been acquitted.

John Dragomir Jr., 50, owner of a tobacco shop, was arrested July 11 in one of a series of raids against suspected gambling places here. He was found innocent Thursday by Municipal Judge Emmett D. Graybill, who said there was insufficient evidence against Dragomir.

Massillon Solicitor Richard Maier said he will study the judge's decision to see what effect, if any, it will have on the drive against gambling.

He said the city's possession ordinance "made the cleanup possible and is the key wheel in the whole machinery."

Five more cases are pending, and two accused gamblers have pleaded guilty, the solicitor said. Maximum penalties under the ordinance are $500 fine and six months in jail.

Police who arrested Dragomir confiscated punchboards, used baseball tickets, a bundle of tickets without numbers and said they found baseball tickets in Dragomir's pocket.

Dragomir said he was "framed" and had never before seen the tickets allegedly taken from his pocket.

IBOP's New Building To Be Located on Rt. 7

Contracts for the construction of a new headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters are expected to be awarded late in October, the union said today. The building will cost $342,000.

It will be located on a 10-acre tract seven miles north of East Liverpool and should be ready for occupancy next July 1.

In revealing the tentative plans for the first time, the union said the building will be a one-story brick and glass L-shaped structure designed to conform with the rolling ground.

Although the union did not reveal the specific location, reports indicate the building will be on the north side of Route 7 about midway between the Route 30 intersection and Beaver Local High School.

The headquarters will be divided into three areas — administrative, assembly and printing.

The largest area will be the assembly area with 7,000 square feet. It will contain a large assembly hall, lounge areas and kitchen.

Plans for the building are being prepared by Robert F. Beatty, an East Liverpool architect. It will replace the union hall in downtown East Liverpool.

Construction of a new headquarters was recommended by the finance committee and approved by delegates to the last IBOP convention in Montreal.

Cuban Situation Today

Revolution Means Hope for Cubans

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
HAVANA (AP) — The development of Fidel Castro's revolution in Cuba has its hopeful side.

The touching, unquestioning faith of the campesinos—the little people of the countryside—in their leader must be seen to be believed.

To them the revolution means only hope, and they—not Havana —represent Cuba. They are people who, like the vast majority of Cubans, depend on the land for a living.

Many now live in hovels, eking out an existence for their families. They have been told this is their revolution—a revolution of the farmers. If the promises are not fulfilled, their disillusion will be terrible.

The peasants place great hopes in the future of agrarian reform and cooperative farming. Competent economists say there is no reason why the program shouldn't succeed with careful, intelligent direction.

The National Institute of Agrarian Reform has outlawed the huge federal landholdings and is intent of the many enormous economic problems facing a nation pillaged by its former regime.

Uncertainty under Fidel Castro's revolutionary government has led to a sharp drop in private and foreign investment. This has coupled with dire predictions about the future of Cuba's economy, which depends mainly on sugar.

Proponents defend the law, pointing out that such measures have worked in other countries—including Japan under the U.S. occupation.

Agrarian reform undoubtedly has a tough, uphill path. So far it will be difficult for the institute has equivalent of 20 to stop when it becomes necessary to tighten their belts in an austerity program later on. He is requesting only recently aware of the voluntary contributions. Much is still needed to pay for expropriated lands and finance prospective cooperatives.

The critical time for Castro is still months ahead—perhaps, in 1960. That's when his promises fall due.

As one habanero put it, "Fidel has shown us roses, but unless he anything its prospects are good. Land redistribution is only one waters the plants they'll die."

Williams' Mirage

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Williams has been such a standout in the desert of summer television that some people are convinced he must be a mirage. Moguls from the networks, Broadway and Hollywood have been knocking on his door and at 8. In 1952, he was making only $175 a week at a night club here. Now his income is in the six-figure bracket. Eight of his records have been smash hits.

He is considering two bids for an hour-long TV show, two movie offers, and a bid from Broadway.

"I'd like to try a Broadway show," he admitted. "But for me it's a completely different field. You have to sing bigger. You can't croon and get by on Broadway."

Andy, who hails from Wall Lake, Ia., looks and acts just like what he is—a boy from the Midwest who has made good in the big city, and still feels at home.

The biggest fear of anyone in business today is not to wear out his welcome in a couple of years," he said.

"It's better not to get too big all of a sudden. I think it's better to build gradually—and hope to last longer."

His easy-going air is the fruit of endless painstaking. He rehearses 48 hours for a one-hour show.

Andy lives alone in a small East Side apartment, likes to collect modern art, and play golf. He is in no hurry to give up his bachelor freedom.

Butlers Says No Compromise Over Ticket Dispute

The party of nearly 30 rode out of Independence, Mo., on a chilly, misting day last April. Former President Harry S. Truman started the train with a slashing sweep of his hat that so startled a mule it tried to climb back into one of the wagons.

The trip was made to publicize Oregon's 100 years as a state.

The wagons retraced the old Oregon Trail where ruts still showed in Wyoming rangelands and as closely as they could elsewhere on the highways of Kansas, Nebraska, Idaho and Oregon.

THIEVES LEAVE TRAIL

FORT KENT, Maine (AP)—It didn't take much sleuthing skill for state police to solve a break-in at an Eagle Lake restaurant.

As a result Ronald Mornault, 16, Alfred Dube, 20, Ernest Roy, 18, and Donald St. Germaine, 20, pleaded guilty today to breaking, entering and larceny and were held for Superior Court action.

Police explained: The youths stole eight pounds of pistachio nuts and ate them on the way home. The shells led to Mornault's driveway.

Westville Church to Hold
Ground-Breaking Ceremonies

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Westville Congregational Christian Church will be held on Sunday during the 11 a.m. worship service. The Rev. Rolland C. Smith is pastor.

The congregation will form a human outline of the new edifice, where each member will break ground.

The new church, which will be completed in a year, will cost approximately $50,000. The sanctuary will accommodate over 200 persons and will be designed with laminated arches, wood decking and brick exterior. Nine Sunday School class rooms will be housed in the basement.

A fellowship hall will be built later at an estimated cost of $20,000.

Maliahu and Ross of Massillon were the architects, with Eldon Bandy of RD 2, Beloit as supervisor of construction.

Members of the building plans committee were James Kasso, the chairman, Edward Knight, Clyde Baker, Clyde Peterson and Hoy Smith, all of RD 2, Beloit, and Galen Beck of RD 4, Salem.

The building fund committee consisted of Mr. Knight, chairman, Alfred Morris of RD 2, Beloit and Sam Ritter of RD 1, Salem.

Bargain Hunter Finds Gems In Rubble

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

Would you like an authentic hand-carved federal fireplace? I know where you can get one and it probably won't cost you more than $10.

Tell you a secret. My desk has been redone. Those file cabinets that rested on a 42 x 18-inch top were affixed to a new full-length flush door yesterday. Total cost, $6. And both the work area and effect are terrific.

Where can you pick up such items and dozens more—old, new, valuable, utilitarian?

At wrecking companies. These concerns are called upon to demolish ancient and not-so-ancient structures. They cart away everything—interiors, exteriors brick and bric-a-brac. These they sell to antique dealers with knowledge and do-it-yourselfers with imagination.

At my local wrecking company it seems all you have to do is name it and you'll find it, plus folklore. I've spotted everything from complete flights of stairs to upholstered church pews.

CHANCES ARE you might need neither of these, but who couldn't do with wallboard, paneling, or one of those nostalgic screw-to-the-floor old-time school desks replete with doodled carvings? Brought one home to my little daughter for just $2.) Take to the road under sunny August skies and in any area where there are major slum clearance or highway projects, you'll stumble upon these companies. You may even be lucky enough to find a wrecker who has leveled a millionaire's castle to relocate the estate with a new housing development.

If you can beat the local antique dealer to it, you might find treasures to swell your pocketbook.

Yes, this is where some of the country's finest antiques dealers pick up their genuine pieces, and they really are genuine.

YOU CAN CUT remodeling costs considerably with good materials found at wrecking companies. Second-hand brick today sells at a premium over new brick and here is where you'll find it. This is a good spot, too, to hunt for wallboard, shingle, slate for patios, for radiator covers, carved door jams—if these strike your fancy—or ancient lighting fixtures that can be rewired for a song.

While Congress debates how the federal highway building program may be financed to compete by 1973, the set date by the 1956 Highway Building Act that calls for over 40,000 miles of new superhighways, take to the off-beat road armed with vision to improve or glorify the old homestead or the modern ranch house.

Today the Shoe Is on the Other Foot

There is no time now to change the mind of any congressman about labor reform in this session of Congress.

The people's representatives will vote the way they have intended to vote all along, with only a few exceptions. The purpose of the frenzied lobbying that has been going on in Washington is to make certain that no last-minute changes of heart occur. There must be a minimum of exceptions.

The labor-reform showdown is a partisan issue in the sense that Democrats have been getting the bulk of union money and union doorbell support. Aside from that, it is essentially an issue over the balance of power between organized labor and management.

Twenty years ago — and more — an era ended in which management had been allowed to ride too high in the saddle for the country's good. The balance of power was lost in management's favor.

A series of laws and labor-slanted interpretations of law began to correct the balance. By 1947, when the Taft-Hartley Act was passed, there had been an over-correction, to the point where it was necessary to spell out in one law what the rights of each side were at that time.

TODAY, it is necessary to spell out more clearly than it has been spelled out before what organized labor may not do under the rights granted to it by the federal government.

Abuses that have grown up in the last half generation cannot be shrugged off any longer as the mischievous acts of fun-loving, over-enthusiastic roustabouts operating on the fringes of the labor movement.

There is a need at this time for Congress to do with organized labor what it finally had to do with organized enterprise early in this century when it spelled out in the Sherman Act what no longer would be permissible.

Once again, the United States is protecting

Khrushchev Would Be Impressed

The first thought, that everything possible must be done to settle the steel strike, or at least get the steel plans in operation before President Khrushchev gets here, is yielding to a second thought.

Khrushchev would be as impressed by a steel strike as anything he could be shown in a country where the people have the sovereign power. It would be the one thing he never would expect to see in the Soviet Union.

Here would be a deep-dish mystery to an authoritarian — how a million people could walk off their jobs and stay off them without any violence and without even any immediate effect on the national economy.

It would have to be explained to the visitor that many of these workers in time would be forced to live on public relief; that in many instances they were receiving favors from their employers while on strike; that they collected various benefits from the enterprise they were paralyzing.

It would be useful for him to know that at one time steel strikes were violent, but that in more recent times there had come to be an acceptance of self-determination as the governing rule of such things. Ever the President of the United States now can take the attitude that if workers do not want to work that is their business and that eventually there will be a resumption of work because that is the way men are constituted.

If the steel strike is still in progress when Khrushchev arrives the middle of next month, he would be impressed with the extent to which self-determination is honored in a free country. If the strike were to be ended arbitrarily, or suspended until he leaves, Khrushchev would be entitled to the chuckle any visitor would be entitled to if he found orange peels swept under the rug to get them out of sight.

Over-Solicitous of the Lawless

Gov. DiSalle has only a slim outside chance of getting anywhere with a last-ditch attempt to put his criminal conspiracy proposal through the 103rd Assembly.

His strategy is to ask the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee for a favorable report on the bill, which passed the House of Representatives last spring with only one dissenting vote. The bill then could be passed by the Senate and sent to the governor for his signature.

But the bill failed in the Senate Judiciary Committee because its predominantly lawyer-minded membership gave it the ax on the grounds it would destroy constitutional rights. Only one member, Sen. Danny D. Johnson, formerly the prosecutor of Tuscarawas County, stood up for the principle that being over-solicitous for the rights of the lawless was not a justifiable position.

Six of the seven members of the Judiciary Committee are lawyers. Their point of view has been given deep respect by the Senate. All the members of the committee, including the one non-lawyer, are held in high esteem.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Army uniform and equipment for the GI of tomorrow has anti-fallout hood, radar, electronics equipment, rifle, anti-tank bazooka, bulletproof fabrics, field-glasses, air purifier, pisoa, toadieaw, ismotee, wylrdhg, propulsion gadgets, two-way radio, helmet, etc. which makes foot soldier fit for any kind of war." — News item.

Dear Mom: Well, I send you a picture of me in my new all-purpose uniform. All I can say is that if war comes it will be over before I can get it on and test all parts.

The sarge took one gander at me and yelled, "Okay; from now on I am off the hard stuff." I look like a cross between an iron stove, a Jules Verne undersea character and Dracula going to a masquerade party thrown by the American Hardware Merchants. It is the first army uniform that has to be buttoned and unbuttoned by a blowtorch and Stillson wrench.

It has everything except an instrument board, ash trays, a clock, dual ignition and windshield wipers which I guess I can get if I want to pay for extras. I felt so uncomfortable in it that I complained to the lieutenant who jacked me up, looked me over from underneath and said I had a bent exhaust pipe.

I asked an officer how do I eat and he said it was not necessary for a GI in this uniform to eat and that all I would need was oil and gas.

He told me not to worry about anything and that if I got a command "on the double" I would be fit to bring down guided missiles, stop tanks, brush-off atomic bombs, sink a submarine and make Hurricane Emma surrender. In addition I can boil an egg by electronics, do KP under fire and see my dentist twice a year by violet ray.

The costume was designed by Boris Karloff from suggestions by Alfred Hitchcock. Still I should not kick. The Army will give me the whole uniform when I am discharged so I can make a living haunting houses.

Love to pop, Oscar

ED WYNN WILL PLAY Santa Claus in a TV show. This will be the ultimate test for Mister Versatility, who for 50 years played the buffoon and then made a switch to prove he can do anything. But what fan who followed Wynn through years of "Perfect Fool" routines ever dreamt he would see a program note: "Next Week — Kris Kringle"? The old fire chief doing it with reindeer will be something. He must revise a famed poem to read:

"And I heard him exclaim as he drove out of sight
'Merry Christmas to all! May the critics do right.'"

How Big a Trickle Makes a Thaw?

Flaws In Moscow-Peping Axis

By SYNGMAN RHEE
President, Republic of South Korea

SEoul
Diplomats, scholars and journalists have been speculating about the Moscow - Peiping Axis ever since it came into being. The resultant conclusions are often contradictory.

Some view the alliance as weak and as of little importance. Others consider it the backbone of international Communism. The truth probably lies somewhere in between.

Because of geography, expansionism and internal power structures, China and Russia have been in frequent conflict situations during the modern period and even before.

The underdeveloped frontier zones of Manchuria, Mongolia and Sinkiang are coveted by both and these ambitions are not easily mitigated.

It may be that in the long sweep of history the Moscow - Peiping partnership is temporary, that it will break down quickly under the stresses and strains to come. However, for the moment the partnership is a fact that the free world must face. It can be destroyed but it cannot be wished away.

RED CHINA is obviously dissatisfied with the amount of assistance it is receiving from the Soviet Union. Despite grandiose claims of industrialization, the Peiping regime is still dependent upon Russia for heavy machinery and for the larger implements of war — planes, tanks, heavy artillery, rolling stock, vehicles and so on. And, with famine stalking the Chinese mainland this year after devastating floods and the breakdown of the communes, Peiping unquestionably will try to obtain grains and other foodstuffs from the Soviet Union.

For the present, Red China has no choice. A slight amount of help may come from the satellites and even from free world countries which falsely believe they see a huge and prosperous market in Communist China. But Russia must be the major supplier or there will be no supplies. As long as mainland China remains under Red rule, there is no substitute for Red China.

THE REAL KEY to the Moscow - Peiping situation lies in the policy and action of the United States. Two meetings of foreign ministers at Geneva have already shown the futility of any summit conference.

It is revealing that, in all the preliminary skirmishing for a summit conference, the Russians have said almost nothing about Red China. This could be because the Russian Communists realize the strength of American sentiment against negotiation with or recognition of the Peiping regime. It also can be a reflection of Russian interest in getting Red China to the summit or any place else where Chinese interests might run counter to those of the Soviet.

If a full summit conference were held, Russia probably would make propagandistic affirmations of support for Red China, urging recognition, United Nations membership, and the like. The communists of the Chinese mainland this year after devastating floods and the breakdown of the communes, Peiping unquestionably will try to obtain grains and other foodstuffs from the Soviet Union.

INTERNAL unrest is widespread on the Chinese mainland and food shortages soon will accentuate the suffering of people already brought to the point of rebellion by the cruel inhumanity of the communists. With the support of the United States, the free Asian nations may soon have an unparalleled opportunity not only to sever the Moscow - Peiping alliance, but to bring back a democratic China.

That would be one of the greatest contributions ever made to a free and peaceful Asia — and, in the long run, to the demise of Communism and a world united under principles of liberty and justice.

How to Impress Mr. K

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Coming Visit Could Have Many Consequences

What Nikita Khrushchev sees and learns on his forthcoming visit to the United States could have dangerous consequences. It could conceivably be the forerunner of war, just as the "summit" meeting between Chamberlain and Hitler at Munich in September 1938 was followed a year later by the outbreak of World War II.

Everything depends now, as it did then, on the reaction of the peoples of the democracies. The question really has passed, for the moment, out of the hands of the government at Washington.

If Khrushchev comes to the conclusion after his visit that the American people are so steeped in luxuries and comforts and so engrossed in material pursuits that they will be ready to make peace at any price, the temptation for the Moscow dictator will be to take chances just as Hitler did, and war — a first "limited" and then general — becomes a serious possibility.

Conversely, if the American people show that they have courage and are willing to make sacrifices for ideals, even to the point of losing some day many of their comforts and their luxuries — as they have done three times in the wars of the last half-century — then maybe the Moscow dictator will not miscalculate or take chances and a cold war will be avoided.

UNFORTUNATELY, the emphasis, since the trip was first announced, has been on the supposed importance of showing Khrushchev the many fine homes of our workers or the number of automobiles in the factory parking lots or the other material things that a rich country can boast.

Little has been said about how the American people should express their idealism or their sense of horror over the murders and tragedies for which the tyrannical government of the Soviet Union has been responsible in its iron-handed rule over hundreds of millions of people.

Should the American people remain silent? Or should they become articulate? The question is being debated quietly in the corridors of Congress. This is a nation where free speech is enjoyed on international as well as national questions. Members of Congress are asking each other frankly what ought to be done by the national legislature itself.

Some have thought it would be best to adjourn, so as to avoid the preliminary skirmishing for a summit conference, the Russians have said almost nothing about Red China. This could be because the Russian Communists realize the strength of American sentiment against negotiation with or recognition of the Peiping regime. It also can be a reflection of Russian interest in getting Red China to the summit or any place else where Chinese interests might run counter to those of the Soviet.

That will have the effect of increasing Red Chinese demands for assistance from the Soviet Union and that is help which Peiping will not get in more than token measure. Alliance between the two internally will be weakened.

INTERNAL unrest is widespread on the Chinese mainland and food shortages soon will accentuate the suffering of people already brought to the point of rebellion by the cruel inhumanity of the communists. With the support of the United States, the free Asian nations may soon have an unparalleled opportunity not only to sever the Moscow - Peiping alliance, but to bring back a democratic China.

That would be one of the greatest contributions ever made to a free and peaceful Asia — and, in the long run, to the demise of Communism and a world united under principles of liberty and justice.

It is hard to remember anything of less interest to me than the news flash that "Humphrey Hat Is in the Ring." What hat?

The way things are shaping up, it's the kiddies who will have to keep the plastic bags away from mommy and poppy. They are threatening to replace the closed garage doors with the motor running as the easy way out.

Whenever I see a piggy-back train with its long rows of truck trailers I remember the way the circus train used to look when it came to town and wonder why anyone got credit for doing the same thing with trailers.

After a few headline-hunting peanut politicians plied their specialty by insulting Kozlov, a deputy premier of the Soviet Union, no one should be shocked or surprised if our man Nixon draws a few insults when he goes to Russia. That is the way the Kremlinites do it — quid pro quo, eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth.

The word "thug" is commoner than it used to be and in fact some newspapers now routinely apply it to baddies who have been in and out of jail so often they have no reputations left. But I wonder how many people know that a Thug, with a capital T, is a member of a one-time religious fraternity in northern India whose

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Hepatitis Is Mild, Though Weakening

Several readers have inquired concerning a disease known as hepatitis.

It should be said at the start that the word hepatitis means inflammation of the liver. At the present time there are two major varieties which are receiving particular attention: serum hepatitis and infectious or epidemic hepatitis.

The probabilities are that both forms of hepatitis are caused by a virus but there is some doubt as to whether the virus is the same in both forms.

SERUM HEPATITIS is acquired from the transfusion of blood or its products, probably because the responsible virus was present in the donor. It is in order to avoid this risk that so much care is taken now not to use blood for transfusion from a person who is, or has recently been, jaundiced.

More frequent is the disorder known as infectious hepatitis, which is a growing health problem with more and more people apparently becoming afflicted. Fortunately, however, the disease is usually mild though weakening, and the chances of recovery are ordinarily good.

Infant hepatitis can strike at any period of life, but it seems to be most frequent in children of school age. There are, however, a number of puzzling aspects to the disease.

Several epidemics have been traced to personal contact, or to contaminated water or food, but in most instances the route of transmission has not been traced.

There are some reasons for believing that healthy persons — carriers who have not been apparently ill with the disease — can spread it. If this is the case, it is similar to some of the other viral diseases.

In most patients there is a period at the onset lasting a few days in which there may be easy fatigability, slight nausea and loss of appetite. Following this it is usual for the jaundice or yellowish coloration of the skin to appear.

If a person has known exposure to infectious hepatitis, it is sometimes possible to prevent the symptoms of the disease by giving a substance known as gamma globulin.

ONCE THE disease has developed, however, there is no specific treatment for it. A good deal of rest in bed is usually indicated.

The diet must be low or lacking in fats, and alcohol must be strictly prohibited.

Although serious complications do develop sometimes, this is fortunately the exception. Most recover completely in the long run.

The most discouraging feature of the disease as a rule is the long convalescence. Again and again someone who has gone through periods of improvement and worsening. It often takes months and months before the victim feels fully normal and healthy.

The Social Notebook

PAST MATRONS of District 13, Order of the Eastern Star, were honored at a picnic Tuesday evening at Firestone Park in Columbiana. In attendance were 145 past matrons and line officers. Columbiana and East Palestine chapters were hostesses.

Past matrons attending from Salem Chapter were Mrs. Curtis Phillips, Mrs. Agnes Gamble, Mrs. Myron Riegel, Mrs. Arthur Johnston and Miss Alice Whinery.

Also in attendance were line officers of the local chapter, Mrs. Virgil Edgerton, Mrs. Harry Sherwood, Mrs. Paul Yates and Mrs. Wendell Church.

The first regular meeting of Salem Chapter's fall term will be in the Masonic Temple Tuesday, Sept. 1, instead of the usual Monday night meeting.

A PICNIC at Centennial Park was enjoyed by 15 members of the Past Matrons Association of Salem Chapter Order of the Eastern Star Monday evening. Mrs. Arthur Johnston and Miss Alice Whinery were hostesses.

The group will entertain all past matrons and patrons and their husbands and wives at a dinner in the Masonic Temple at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 14. A social evening will follow.

THE 50th annual reunion of the Kirkbride family was held Saturday at Centennial Park.

Forty-eight guests were in attendance from Salem, Winona, Berlin Center, Youngstown, Mineral Ridge, Deerfield, Atwater, Alliance, Homeworth, Clarkshoro and Wenvonah, N.J., Sharon, Transfer, New Wilmington and Connellsburg, Pa., and Venezuela, S.A.

Mrs. Mary Kirkbride of Deerfield, 86, was the oldest guest present.

urally, go together, in my opinion.

Existing legislation, in which I participated as a member of the Ohio Senate in 1951, has eliminated the slot machine in Ohio. My proposed bill would strike at the vicious 'numbers game' now prevalent in many of Ohio counties.

The governor has directed McElroy to have a special grand jury look into Stark County conditions because the regular grand jury said it was unable to cope with the situation.

Altogether, a handful of new measures, 17 gubernatorial vetoes, a score of appointments and several resolutions were on tap for consideration by legislators winding up one of the longest sessions in state history. The session began Jan. 7. Regular working sessions ended July 25.

DiSalle vetoed four more enactments Thursday to run his total to 21 for the session. The Legislature overrode his veto of the "fair trade" law permitting manufacturers to set minimum retail prices for trade marked items. They sustained three other vetoes.

The latest vetoes included disapproval of an enactment to require sex offenders, convicted more than once, to register for 10 years. The governor asserted the vetoed law would be an invasion of the state's parole and probation system and that registrants, although confidential, might invite curiosity seekers.

He also applied a veto to an enactment seeking to make non-profit charitable hospitals liable only for gross negligence of their employees or agents in damage cases arising from injury or death of patients. The veto left intact statutes making institutions liable for ordinary negligence.

Interest focused on a drive by county commissioners, county engineers and other local officials for a $2.50 increase in the annual $10 automobile license tag fee. They said an estimated 15 million dollars from the increase was needed for their road improvements.

Although the House approved the increase to $12.50 a year, the Senate wanted a $4 boost, effective next year.

If they fail, the Military Sea Transportation Service ships Hawaii Victory and Dalton Victory will attempt to pluck the capsule from Camp Twin Spruce where he taught camp craft and cooking during a seven-week summer program. He has been in scouting for seven years and has earned 25 merit badges.

Backers said a shift to a per-

The governor also vetoed three items in the million dollar appropriation to pay sundry claims against the state.

The action deleted a $32,000 pay-

Hanoverton Farmers Bank Takes County Softball Crown

Stepanics On Short End 5-2

Winner, Runner-up in District Tourney

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
Displaying the same brand of inspired ball that marked its play throughout the tournament, Hanoverton Farmers Bank defeated Kensington Stepanic's Tavern 5-2 last night at Kelley Field to become the 1959 Columbiana County softball champions.

For a team that wasn't even good enough to make the playoffs in the Salem Class AA League, the Kensington crew played like champions last night. Pitcher Hank Miller rarely has looked in better form. He hurled shutout ball for the first five innings and weakened only when Stepanic's touched him for a run in each of the last two frames.

Miller got plenty of defensive support too. Third Baseman Bob Barber robbed Stepanic's Glen M. Mercer of an extra base hit when he made a diving stop of a smash over the bag and threw his man out at first.

However, the finest play of the game was turned in by rightfielder Ed Haynam who with one on and two out in the fourth raced to the foul line to make a one handed diving catch of a belt off the bat of Stepanic's Jim Roach. If the ball had gotten by Haynam, Roach probably would have circled the bases.

MERCER, WHO was called upon to pitch his fourth game in three nights for Stepanic's, had his usual sharp control but some of the edge was gone from his fast ball. Farmers touched him for eight hits, four of them coming in the second inning when three runs crossed the plate.

The big blow was Miller's line top of the left field fence, 230 feet away from home plate. It brought home Jerry Marquis, who was on first base with a single, with the first run of the game.

A hit batsman, an infield single and a walk forced in the second run. Jerry Mountz beat out an infield hit to push home the final marker of the inning.

Stepanics got one run back in the sixth when Ken Wood singled with two out and came home on Herb Reed's triple.

Barber made it 5-1 in favor of Farmers in the seventh when he caught a hold of a Mercer fast ball and rode it out of the park with a man on.

Stepanics kicked up a small storm in the bottom of the seventh but had to settle for just one counter on Mercer's run-producing triple. Reed of Stepanic's had a three hits in three at bats to lead the hitters of both teams.

THE TROPHY for the highest batting average in the tournament went to Casey Lease of Salona Supply who had eight hits in 18 times at bat for a .444 average. Bob Morris, also of Salona, followed with a .421 mark. The batting title was based on a minimum of 17 times at bat.

Mercer was awarded the trophy for having the lowest earned run average, 1.68. The run that the Stepanic's hurler batted in the seventh inning last night against Miller of Farmers gave him the ERA title. Miller finished up a close second with a 1.69 average.

Farmers powered its way through the double elimination tourney without a loss. Stepanic's dropped both of its games to Farmers. During the regular season, Stepanic's has posted a 10 and 5 record in Class AA competition while Farmers is mired in the second division with seven losses in 15 decisions.

Both Farmers and Stepanic's now move into the district tournament which begins Saturday at Kelley Field. Steubenville Pasquerellas and Unionport make up the remaining four team field.

Wynn Gets His 16th Victory

Chicago Trounces Mossi, Detroit 9-0

By The Associated Press

Few players have found themselves on a tougher spot than 19-year-old Premjit Lall of India occupied today.

In fairness to Solly Hennus the aggressive Cardinal manager probably was fearful of shattering kid Oliver's confidence. After all, it was Oliver who ignited the Cards' last-ditch five-run rally with a homer in the ninth. Pinch hitter George Crowe followed a few moments later with a grand-slam homer.

Just before the game, General

Manager Bing Devine announced that the 38-year-old Musial would be benched for much of the rest of the season in favor of the much younger Oliver.

The Dodger victory lifted them to second place 2½ games behind the San Francisco Giants, who dropped a 20-9 slugfest to the Chicago Cubs, and half a game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who were beaten 9-8 by Cincinnati,

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia

were idle.

Chicago's White Sox maintained their 2½-game lead over Cleveland in the American League, shutting out Detroit 9-0 while the Indians were defeating Kansas City 4-0.

Wynn won his 16th Thursday night in pitching the league-leading

Chicago White Sox to a 9-0 victory over Detroit. He not only is the biggest winner in the league

but he leads with five shutouts.

The triumph was the 265th of his career, just 35 short of becoming the first pitcher since Lefty Grove to win 300 major league games.

The triumph enabled the White Sox to maintain their 2½ game lead over the Cleveland Indians who defeated Kansas City 7-5.

Washington knocked off the New York Yankees again 5-2. Boston and Baltimore were idle.

Los Angeles climbed into second place in the National League with a 7-6 squeaker over St. Louis.

Chicago's Cubs slaughtered the San Francisco Giants 20-9 and Cincinnati edged out Milwaukee 9-8.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia

were idle.

The White Sox, usually a band of pure puffers, exploded for 40

total bases to set a season scoring high in a game that lasted 3 hours and 50 minutes, longest nine-inning game in league history.

Rookie George Altman paced

the Cubs with two homers, three singles and five runs batted in.
